

LATE OR EARLY? That is the question a number of Mokena residents are asking about Easter lilies. Mrs. Joseph Alexander has a plant here that shows four blooms. There are several other persons in the village who report such lilies in bloom in their gardens. They transferred the plants to the ground after Easter and they are now in full bloom. Mrs. Alexander left her plant in the original pot. (Marvin Smith photo)

Frankfort Fire Dept. Will Hold Dance, Fish Fry

The Frankfort fire department will hold its annual fish fry and dance on Friday, Aug. 5, on the Valley View Farm picnic grounds on U. S. 30. The entrance to the picnic area is at Kiddyland, near Wolf road.

The affair is open to the public and tickets may be obtained now from members of the department. A popular band will furnish the music for the dance. Various prizes will be awarded.

While the Frankfort department is now in a fire protection district no tax money will be available for its use until next summer and fall, it was explained. In the meantime the department must continue to rely on funds raised through affairs like the one planned or donations.

All proceeds from the dance and fish fry will be used to maintain the fire department, officers stated.

Cubs Become Minnows

49 Scouts Complete Swim Course

The "Learn to Swim" campaign for Mokena Cub scouts sponsored by the Red Cross ended yesterday. Those in charge described the program as quite successful.

Forty-nine of the Cubs took advantage of the opportunity to improve their swimming and get lessons in safety. The classes began July 5 and continued for 12 days. The pool used for the lessons was a private one—at the Ervin Friant home on Mokena street.

Mrs. George H. Bills, a certified Red Cross water safety instructor, was in charge of the Mokena program. She was assisted by Bonnie Bruce, a Red cross water safety instructor's aide. The classes began at 8:30 a.m. and continued until noon.

Among safety skills taught were how to release a cramp in the foot or calf of the leg; assisting a non-swimmer to his feet and reaching assists.

"Reaching assists" mean just what the phrase sounds like. What-ever can be extended, thrown or reached a person foundering in the water that will aid in getting him to safety is a reaching assist—a rope, a pole, a bathrobe, inner tube, paddles, oars, a life preserver.

Mrs. Bills emphasized in her teaching that the boys—adults too who are non-swimmers or inexperienced swimmers—use an assist if they find a person in trouble in the water, and NEVER go after someone themselves. Get help from someone qualified, she added.

The young swimmers also were given demonstrations of the mouth-to-mouth method of resuscitation, a method recommended for its simplicity and success, Mrs. Bills said.

There were three divisions among the Cub scout swimmers. The first group, known as the Sunfish, reported at 8:30. This outfit was made up of boys who have passed their Red Cross beginners' tests and now learning to perfect the crawl, side stroke, elementary back stroke, treading water, diving and other Red Cross intermediate skills. The boys enrolled as Sunfish were:

New Lenox Lions Hold Annual Festival July 29-30

The annual Lions club festival at New Lenox will be held Friday and Saturday nights of next week (July 29-30) at the Lions Den on S. Cedar road.

In addition to the regular booths, rides and concessions the annual auction, a popular feature of the festival, will also be held.

The items sold are donated by residents of the community and include practically everything. Persons who have articles to donate are asked to call Earl Moss, Huxley 5-8516, or Frank Chandler, Huxley 5-5031, according to James Skiniotes, general chairman of the affair.

Donated items will be picked up next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, July 26 and 27.

One of the highlights of the Friday night program will be a pop concert to be presented at 7 o'clock by the combined grade school bands of Manhattan, Frankfort and New Lenox under the direction of Milton Mojzls, conductor of the New Lenox band.

Proceeds from the festival are used by the Lions club in its various community and welfare enterprises. The Lions engage in numerous charity activities, especially in aiding those with defective sight and little financial resources.

The festival is an established event in the area and is well attended. The various committees are busy now with arrangements and General Chairman Skiniotes is hopeful the weatherman will cooperate and the nights will be fair and not too warm or too cool.

Various prizes will be awarded in the course of the festival, it was announced, and will include a portable TV, and FM radio set and a transistor radio. The prizes will be distributed on Saturday night, July 30.

Seeks Views Of Public On Forming Mokena Fire Dist.

Mokena volunteer fire department may take the problem of its support to the people. The firemen at their regular meeting, Wednesday, July 13 proposed the idea of a town meeting to obtain the feeling of the people on the merits of a tax supported fire department under a fire district versus the present volunteer department. The proposal was placed in the hands of a committee instructed to look further into the method of reaching the people.

Under the present system the department's only support is the annual dance argued by an occasional drive such as the recent building campaign which fell short of the target by $2500.

According to the group, the present plan has many advantages, but is also the source of constant worry when it comes to financing the maintenance and replacement of the equipment and regular operational expenses.

Advocates of the fire district plan contend that it would cost the public little more to support the department thru taxes than thru donations, but the method is surer. The department would know what its income would be and could tailor its needs to fit, they pointed out.

Frankfort recently formed a fire protection district. Some have suggested that perhaps the remainder of the township could be annexed to the Frankfort district and a check was to be made to see if this was possible. If the entire town was one fire district then Mokena's department could protect the north half and the Frankfort department the south half. When Arbury Hills is built up it is probable, it was said, that a fire department would be stationed there.

It was announced at the meeting that officers of the department are contacting local business men for support of a day squad for better protection during daylight hours.

Auxiliary phone equipment is being installed at the home of John Rosenens to assist in week-end coverage during the summer months. A plug and jack system with a portable phone will be used.

The treasurer's report showed $2185.30 as the total receipts from the annual dance held last month.

The group set the new squad meeting for July 20 at 7 p.m.

A. Of C. To Elect Staff Next Tuesday

The next meeting of the New Lenox Association of Commerce is expected to see election of officers and the adoption of a resolution setting forth the purpose and objectives of the newly formed body. The next meeting of the group is scheduled for next Tuesday noon (July 26) in the dining room of the Methodist church.

Any resident of the community interested in its progress is invited to become a member of the Association of Commerce and also to attend the luncheon meeting Tuesday.

At the July 12 meeting the Association voted semi-annual dues of $15 -- on a trial basis. A spokesman pointed out that the dues include the price of the luncheons. There are two meetings a month so in half a year a member who attends regularly would have 12 luncheons.

The New Lenox group has voted unanimously for affiliation with the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The New Lenox body will elect its permanent officers at the meeting Tuesday.

Hold Funeral Services For Fred Reimers

Fred Reimers, 64 years old, late of 115 White st., Frankfort, died last Friday, July 15, at St. James hospital, Chicago Heights. He was ill about two months.

Born in Green Garden township, the son of John and Magdalene Reimers, he had resided in the area all his life. Mr. Reimers had been living in Mokena before moving to Frankfort. He had been there only a brief time before being stricken and removed to the hospital.

Mr. Reimers served in the U.S. armed services in World War I and was a member of Matteson post, American Legion. He was employed in the International Harvester plant at Chicago as a machinist.

Funeral services for Mr. Reimers were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the West End funeral home, Chicago Heights, with the Rev. Theodore C. Wimmer, pastor of St. John's church, Mokena, officiating. Interment was in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Mr. Reimers never married. His parents preceded him in death and immediate survivors are four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Emma Stender, Monee; Mrs. Mary Lehnert, Wilton Center; Mrs. Bertha Bohnsack, Joliet; Mrs. Augusta Lehnert, Manhattan and Herman Reimers, of Frankfort.

Contractor's Check Held Up By Board

Complaints by residents about the difficulty in traversing some streets and alleys and getting in and out of driveways because of settling of sewer trenches and piles of earth left along the edges prompted the Frankfort village board to take action Monday night.

It allowed payment of a check for $22,000 due D'Andrea Construction Co. which is installing the sewer mains, but the trustees voted to hold the check back until such time as the contractor clears up the spots complained about and pushes the surplus dirt out of yards and streets and heap it along the trenches for settling.

The board also allowed payment of $40,474 to Gaskill and Walton for work completed on the sewage treatment plant and fees of $1,000 and $667 to the village engineer, Robert Hamilton.

Because of weather conditions earlier in the month work on the sewer project has slowed in comparison with past months, the engineer reported.

He stated, however, that he expected the sewers could be hooked up with the treatment plant about Oct. 1.

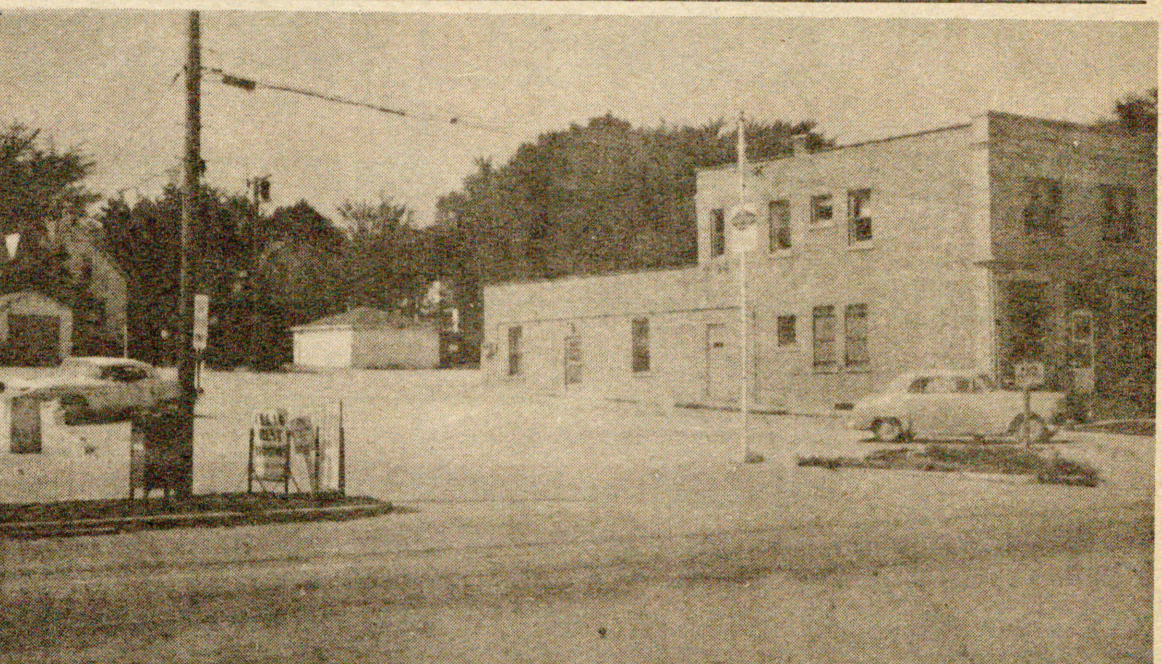

Victor Eisenbrandt has been hired by the village to operate the treatment plant and perform such other tasks as are needed. He will be employed on a part time basis beginning Aug. 1 at $2 an hour and about Dec. 1 will probably be on a full time basis. At that time he will receive $350 a month.

Work on the sewer project in the vicinity of Ash and Utah may be delayed because of lack of an easement to run the line at the rear of the property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lahti.

Persons who have attempted to obtain an easement from the couple point out that their property will be the most directly benefitted from running the main as contemplated. Village Attorney Albert Krusemark told the board Monday night that he had written the Lahti to the effect if the easement was not forthcoming by Monday night the village would have to launch condemnation proceedings.

The easement was not received Monday night and the board of trustees instructed the attorney to proceed with the condemnation action.

MORE OFF-STREET PARKING facilities are now available for customers of the New Lenox State bank. The bank has purchased the property to be east of its building, a parcel with 150 feet of frontage on U.S. 30 and extending south for 100 feet. It was formerly the site of the home of Peter Sinclair who sold it to Sverre Ugland of Joliet about five years ago. The bank has purchased the property from Ugland. Plans are in the making for a drive-in teller's window on the east side of the bank. The bank also has a parking lot on the west side of its building, 75 feet by 100. Growth of business has necessitated providing more parking space, it was explained.

Frankfort's Budget For Year Is $99,910

The Frankfort village council at its regular meeting Monday night adopted the appropriation ordinance for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1960 and ending April 30, 1961. Total amount listed in the ordinance is $99,910.

This is approximately $33,000 greater than last year's total but Village Attorney Albert H. Krusemark pointed out that the fact certain sums have been appropriated does not mean they will be spent. They are listed because the village board cannot spend money unless it is appropriated but even if appropriated, the attorney added, the money cannot be spent unless it is available.

Regardless of the amount appropriated for general funds, Krusemark further explained, the general corporate tax rate remains the same, approximately 17 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation. The police protection fund rate also remain at the figure it has been, about 13 cents; the garbage disposal rate is also the same, 8.8 cents.

Last year, Krusemark said, the total rate for the village of Frankfort was approximately 43 cents but it will be up to .783 this year because of the interest payments on the sewer bonds (general obligation).

The rate for the bonds total 35 cents. The bonds were sold last December and when the 1959 levy was made it was necessary to put in $9,975 to meet interest payments due by July 1, 1961. Hereafter it will be necessary to raise $11,000 to $12,000 a year for principal and interest.

"We've had the big jolt now," Krusemark told the board members, "this jump from 43 to 78 cents. Next year the total rate may be 85 or 86 cents but there won't be the big increase."

The revenue bonds, of course are paid off thru income from the water and sewer department for services, and the interest too.

Under the terms of the bond ordinance it is necessary to set up several accounts in the appropriation measure such as $14,000 for principal and interest; $4,000 for bond reserve; $3,000 for depreciation and contingencies.

The appropriation ordinance carries $4,500 for resurfacing streets; $500 for repairing sidewalks; $2,000 for labor and material for street repairs; $2,000 for street lighting; $5,600 for police salaries; $400 for repair, replacement of police equipment; $3,500 for garbage collection; $3,500 for landscaping and maintenance of park; $200 for electric lights for the park; $5,810 for wages and operation of water and sewer department $3,000 for new hydrants $1,500 for water meters and copper pipe; $2,500 for repairs of water and sewer system and many more items.

The ordinance appears in detail on another page in this issue.

3 Drivers Pay $125 In Police Court

Three drivers paid fines and costs totaling $125 in Mokena Police court last Thursday.

Police magistrate John Balaz fined Grant C. Beasley, 18 of 611 Grant, Joliet $50 and $10 cost on a plea of guilty on a reckless driving charge.

Beasley was arrested by officer Joseph Heim on July 13 when he rounded the corner of Mokena and Division on two wheels of his vehicle and continued down Division to First where he repeated the offense, according to the officers report.

Tom Williams, 172 Anna St., Mokena was fined $30 and $5 cost when charged with driving too fast for conditions as the result of an arrest July 12 by Patrolman Roy Newton who estimated Williams' speed on Tinley Park road between First street and the north bend of the road, at 65 miles per hour.

Peter M. Hennegan 1621 S. 61st st., Cicero paid $10 for driving in the village with a faulty muffler and an additional $15 and $5 cost for using disparaging language towards the arresting officers, Joseph Heim and Marvin Smith. The offense was committed July 7.

Mayor Urges Motorists To Use Care And Live Longer

Three traffic offenders and a group of young police court spectators were warned to drive safely by Mokena Mayor James Marti.

Marti, who was also a spectator at the court of Police Magistrate John Balaz at the Village Hall told the group that Mokena is their own and they should do their part in keeping it a safe place to live.

"Driving carefully, he said, doesn't eliminate the possibility of accidents nor does it take the pleasure out of joy riding, but is just one more element in a series of preventative action."

Marti, pleaded with the group to heed his warning not because of some penalty of the law, but because of the serious effect an accident could have on their lives.

The mayor described the feeling of some of his acquaintances who had experienced an accident. "One, he said, was driving at night in an area where it was impossible to drive at an excessive speed, but a

Complete New Rooms At L-W

A new cafeteria and band room have been completed at Lincoln-Way high school to help alleviate conditions due to overcrowding.

The cafeteria adjoining the main lobby may be entered from the lobby or the auditorium, North of the present cafeteria. The old cafeteria serves hot lunches to students wishing to buy their noon day meal while the new room is equipped with a snack bar and soft drink machines and will be used primarily for students who bring their lunches. It has a seating capacity of 300. There are four lunch periods so the room could accommodate 1,200.

As this room was built not only for eating purposes but also as an all purpose room it has two wood oak folding doors and moveable and folding type furniture. After the lunch periods it will be used for various class rooms and study hall.

G.A.A. activities will be held in the room after school hours. Adjoining the present band room located in the Northwest corner adjacent to the auditorium the new addition viewed by band instructors say it is one of the finest band rooms in the area. It has six private practice rooms for individuals and small groups. Risers have been built so all students may be seen by the instructor, Robert Taylor, during practice with the varsity and concert bands. Beginning the fall term there will be 80 students enrolled in band.

Part of the present band room will be used by the vocal music department under the direction of Tom Olson, choral director. At the recent Band Boosters meeting they decided to finance the project of purchasing new storage cabinets for the new band room.

The Political Conventions

Television is a wonderful thing for speakers at the national conventions of America's two major parties--the people back home hear them even if the delegates and visitors pay them no mind.

Of course we may exaggerate some--most probably we do--in saying the folks back home hear them. This would imply that everyone listens to or watches the doings at the national conventions on radio or TV, whereas the truth of the matter is that the non-listeners and non-viewers far exceed the listeners and viewers of such events. The same thing goes for readers. Newspapers and magazines carry millions of words, not only on the national conventions but on other things political and on politicians. Surveys show that stories concerning public affairs rate low in readership--unless they are of a scandalous nature, preferably with a sex angle.

Therefore, it is safe to assume that the same thing goes for air media of communication. Some people watch the TV accounts because they are interested. They also read about it. There are others who are interested but in a lesser degree. They endeavor to catch the high lights and in reading about the conventions are satisfied to confine themselves to headlines and the first and second paragraphs.

Others tune in the conventions mainly because they can't get anything else except some old re-runs and they have to have something showing on the screen even if they pay little attention to whatever it is.

But regardless of why or how they watch convention proceedings on television, the TV audiences are a boon to convention speakers. Convention speakers are something like those what-do-you-call-em.....picadors?.....those johnnies who go out and occupy the bull with little harpoons and wear him down thru luring him into wild charges. Probably the bullfight fans pay little attention to these preliminaries but go on talking, making bets or comparing the batting averages of the various matadors. They are waiting for the main go--they have come to see the matador slay the bull or maybe--who knows senior? Maybe this time the crowd gets what you call a bonus, si? and the bull it kills the matador.

Well you can wager your all on this--those delegates and those backers of various presidential and vice presidential hopefuls do not go to political conventions to listen to speeches. Actions at conventions are not swayed or changed by oratory.

Between the time a convention opens and the point where balloting on nominations begins would be a long interval, especially for radio and TV audiences unless something was going on on the stage. If there were no speakers up there the people listening or watching would probably think the program over, and tune off and with much of that one could hear the cries of anguish raised by sponsors as far away as Sidney and Melbourne, Australia, with the naked ear.

So while lieutenants of presidential hopefuls are carrying on their campaigns among the delegations, with all the in-fighting, the long range blasts and counter-blasts, the promises, tactics and strategy that mark nominating battles, speakers are sent up to the platform to give watchers the illusion the business of the convention is going forward with despatch.

Apparently no one at a convention pays any attention to these speakers and it is just as well because they couldn't hear them anyway because of the noise created by the campaigning and caucuses among the delegations. The TV audiences hear them, however, and since most of these speakers are either candidates for offices back home they thus get in a lick at the voters.

The candidates like this--they figure that to be seen on a national hook-up, speaking from a major political convention helps to convince the voters of their importance.

Political conventions are great shows and worth watching. They also are the only practical means yet devised for selecting candidates for the Presidency. There are other ways that could be employed, of course, but they aren't practical and probably would not produce any better candidates than emerge from the convention system.

And there is always this--if you don't like the candidates whose names appear on the ballot there is a space there for you to write in your own.

I have a sister-in-law who is a remarkable gal. This is stated as a fact and not just something to incur her favor and maybe wheedle her into a cake or pie. As a culinary artist her eau de boil is superb and her graceful skill with a can opener is a joy to see but to be perfectly frank pastry is not her forte.

She is not only remarkable, per se, but in many other ways. It is remarkable, for instance, for one addicted to drawing to inside straights to lose so little. But I believe she is most remarkable in that she knows so many remarkable people who tell her the most remarkable things.

It sometimes happens in my line of work that I encounter the odd or unusual but mostly things are on the humdrum side but not with my sister-in-law.

From her sources of information life is a three-ring circus with something popping in every ring.

I may meet a person who remarks on the fine weather.

"Beautiful here," he may say, "but I just came from such-and-such place, only 10 miles, and there was a heavy rain there. Odd isn't it, when you consider how fine it is here."

But if someone stops my sister-in-law to talk about the weather they came thru, it really was weather, with funnel clouds, hail, terrific lightning and all the trimmings.

Someone I encounter on the street may mention, in the course of small talk, that he just saw an orange colored cat stalking a bird.

Nothing so commonplace would be reported to my sister-in-law. A person she might meet of domestic cats unless they happened to be marching down the street platoons of 100 each and all playing trombones. But they probably would mention having seen a bengal tiger ease out between two parked cars stalking a Good Humor man.

Whether the tiger wanted the man or just ice cream they didn't know because what caught their attention was the fact that the tiger appeared to be lame in his left hind foot. If it hadn't been a limping tiger they probably wouldn't have paid any attention to the incident.

In the course of long career in this business we have had many telephone calls relative to the finding of carrier pigeons and the loss, or finding of parakeets.

But there has been nothing spectacular about such incidents. The pigeons, of course, were always banded but had nothing to say. The parakeets, of course, had terrific vocabularies, according to the owners, and could rattle off such things as, "Hello," or "Pretty Billy."

I am willing to believe the owners when they say they have parakeets that talk, also never having heard any of these little fellows make any noise except for a raspy, scratchy sound apparently coming from the throat.

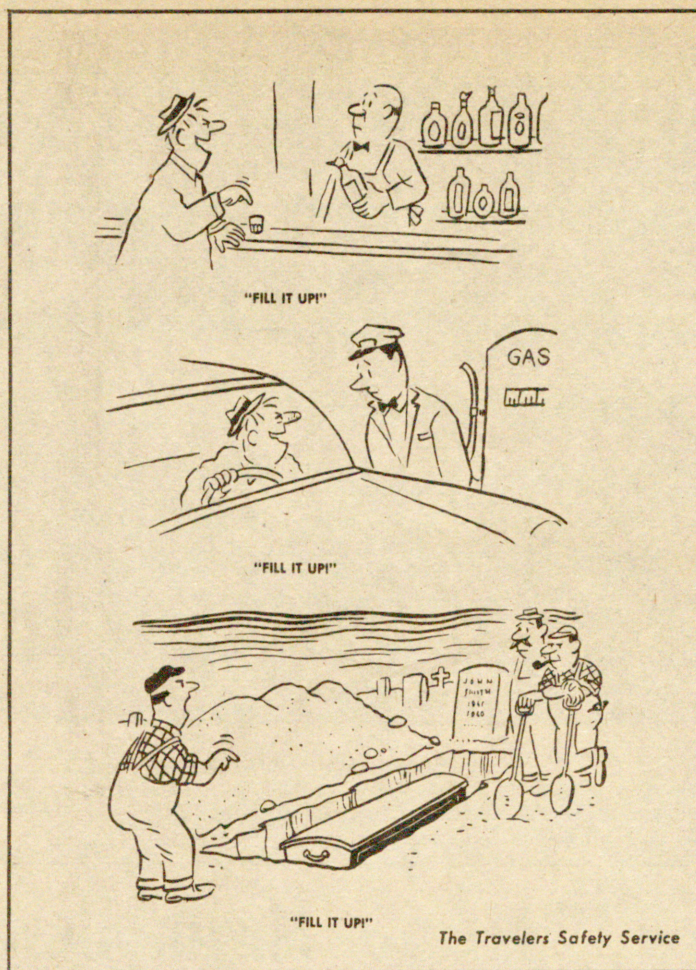

But then your author finds it difficult to interpret the sounds infants make into the same words and sentence structures as do the parents.

At the risk of being called a skeptic--or worse--by parakeet owners or parents it is my opinion that if the hearer of such sounds uses his imagination a bit it helps, especially with some of the free translations released as verbatim reports.

What happens to these free flying parakeets I don't know. Your correspondent, if thinking about the problem at all, assumed that they and their vocabularies got lost and stayed that way.

Congratulations to Elaine and Leslie Yunker, Orland Park, Jean Siemsen Tinley Park and Jack Uthe, Markham. They were members of the State 4-H vegetable judging team. They received a "B" rating at the contest in Urbana. There were 15 teams in the vegetable division. Cook County placed fourth. A double bouquet of roses to Elaine Yunker, who was the only member of our team receiving an "A" rating. There were 57 contestants in the vegetable division and only six people had scores higher than Elaine.

Managing money is a topic of interest to everyone. We have recently heard some thought about managing our national budget book emanating from the conference in Los Angeles. Our 4-H Federation members were given help in learning how money is managed by banks and savings and loan associations. Our thanks to Ralph

But my sister-in-law was at her office the early part of last week when a girl whose desk is next to a window beckoned: "Look out there," she invited pointing to a TV antenna.

And sitting there, I am told, were 24 sparrows and one parakeet--a green one. It was one of those finger type antennas and the spatzies were seated on the fingers in batches of six each.

The parakeet was standing out in front and slightly above. He was holding a tally card pencil in one foot and using it as a baton.

At this juncture another girl began making motions to look out a window on the other side of the room. And there on a neighboring TV antenna sat 24 parakeets, drawn up like a chorus and led by a sparrow.

There were some song sparrows in the sparrow group so that choir was working on pieces with melody and harmony. The parakeets, however, were bearing down on "Bye, Bye Blackbird," in plainsong, or Gregorian chant as some refer to it.

My sister-in-law and her fellow workers agreed there was something strange about the set up of the parakeet chorus. After listening to a few bars they were convinced that the sparrow conductor was tone-deaf.

Dahms, Bremen State Bank, and Lyle Nelson, Tinley Park Savings and Loan, for appearing on the program. Federation members also owe a thank you to Earl Siemsen, Tinley Park, for procuring the services of the two bankers.

One of the good ideas offered during the "idea exchange" at the Federation meeting was presented by Jim Bussema of the Glenwood Aces 4-H club. This club is under the guidance of its leader, Henry Veldhuizen, Glenwood. He has a scrap book of stories and pictures of their club's activities. This provides a nice historical record, plus a chance for fond reminiscing. This club also has a club photographer whose duty it is to see that the activities of the club and its members are recorded on glossy 5x7 prints.

Julia Dyrce, Blue Island and Leslie Warning, Worth, reported on their club's efforts in the Chicago Ridge and Blue Island parades. Their 4-H club, the Worth-while, enrolled a float in each parade. They reported they had a lot of fun doing it and they also won some prizes for their efforts.

Hints For Homeowners

Several species of mites that feed on evergreens are commonly called red spiders.

These mites are small, active creatures that look like specks running about and feeding on the leaves. They range in color from pale yellow, to red and almost black, with or without darker spots. The immature mites have only six legs, but after molting, the adults all have eight legs. The eggs, laid on the under side of the leaves hatch in about one week in warm weather, and a generation may be completed in two weeks.

Mites feed by rasping or piercing the leaves of the plant and sucking the juices and chlorophyll. A plant thus damaged will be grayish in color with leaves and even whole areas dying. This damage is due, not to the voracious feeding of a few mites, but to the feeding of the tremendous population which quickly builds up.

Red spiders feed on junipers, spruce, pines, cedar and arbutus, but are not found on yews. Plants that are likely to be attacked by red spider should be inspected, frequently to detect and control the mites before damage occurs. A quick and simple way to inspect a plant is to shake a few branches over a piece of white paper. If mites are present,

Off On Climbing Trip Of Mt. Ranier, Mt. Baker

William Alesaukas, a resident of Kimerly Heights, Tinley Park and an employee of the Cooper-Show Ford at Frankfort, is now on a type of vacation he enjoys most.

He is mountain climbing. Alesaukas left last Thursday for the west coast where he will be joined by a friend, R. A. Siverts, of Seattle. Both are members of the German Alpine club of Germany and have scaled the highest peaks in Europe.

They have Mt. Ranier, Mt. Baker and other objectives in the Lower Cascades as their goals for current trip. Alesaukas expects to return home Aug. 3.

He is president of the Flat Landers Ski club of Park Forest and slides of his climbing ventures in the Cascades will be shown at the first meeting of the club after his return.

Madras Is Meant To Fade

Unfaded garments are as rare as a pair of clean white socks on a college campus.

However, housewives not completely sold on the novel effects of fading and bleeding can turn to their professional laundrymen to wash these garments with a minimum of change in appearance from laundering.

Madras, a cotton fabric made in the Madras region of India, is hand woven from yarns spun and dyed in this area. It has long been known that the fabric is not wash-fast, and garment manufacturers have taken advantage of this property in making clothing that has a different appearance after each washing.

Textile experts at American Institute of Laundering, Joliet, the research and education center in the professional laundry industry, recently conducted extensive tests on Madras garments. In examining methods of laundering the novel fabric, the laundering technicians devised formulas, both for the best way to carry out the manufacturers' intent and for minimizing fading and bleeding. The Institute technicians concluded that fading cannot be stopped completely, but they have been able to advise their member laundries on the best method of slowing down the change in appearance after washing.

Housewives should keep in mind however, that they and their families will be at the height of fashion in faded Madras. All sorts of garments—sport shirts, dresses, walking shorts, and jackets—are currently being made from Madras and are being sold by quality shops.

St. John's United Church of Christ, Mokena, was the setting at the double ring wedding ceremony uniting Miss Lois Lorraine Fee and Lorne Robert Niemann both of Mokena, Saturday, June 25, 1960 at a 7 o'clock candlelight service, with the Rev. William J. Reimann officiating.

Miss Fee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Fee and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Niemann of Mokena.

White mums, gladioli and carnations with palms decorated the altar. Thomas Fee, brother of the bride and Donald Niemann, brother of the groom, ushers, lit the altar candles.

Misses Sandra and Sharon Dwyer sang Because, With This Ring and The Lord's Prayer accompanied by the organist, Miss Sandy Swinford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon embroidered sheer bouquet taffeta with a fitted bodice accented with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, long tapering sleeves, bouffant skirt of white nylon sheer tiers accented back cascading into chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held by a princess tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchid surrounded by white stephanotis.

Miss Willa Schroeder, maid of honor, wore an orchid silk organza princess style gown with a scoop neckline. The fitted bodice was accented with a panel of taffeta in back. An orchid petal cloche accented with pearls and blusher veil completed her outfit. She carried a cascade arrangement of orchid and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Niemann, sister of the groom, was dressed identical to the maid of honor in yellow. Her cascade bouquet consisted of yellow and white carnations.

Candice Fee, sister of the bride and Karen Niemann, sister of the groom, flowergirls, wore identical floor length dresses of blue and pink silk organza accented with a pleated taffeta cummerbund and a large bow in back. Both carried white baskets of blue and pink petals.

Duane Niemann, brother of the groom, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white satin heart shaped pillow.

Walter Bernard served the groom as best man and Darrell Erickson was groomsman.

Mrs. Fee, mother of the bride, chose a light blue silk organza bouffant dress accented with pearl accessories; the groom's mother wore a silk organza sheath dress in light blue with crystal accessories. White rose corsages completed their outfits.

A buffet supper was served to approximately 500 guests at the reception following the ceremony in the VFW hall, Wolf road. Among the guests were the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tietz and great grandfather Martin Helfert. Also the groom's grandparents Mrs. Elsie Genens and Mrs. Peter Niemann. Husks Cause Fire Scare On Burch Farm

The Missionary Society of Homer Church will hold its annual picnic meeting Thursday, July 28, at the church park grounds, beginning with dinner at 12:30. Everyone is asked to bring her own table service and a dish to pass. Some play equipment is available for the use of the children, and all are invited. Drinks will be furnished by the society.

The Reed Burch family wish to express their appreciation to the Homer Fire Dept. for the promptness with which they answered the call to their home last Saturday. A fire which endangered the farm buildings was caused when Reed set fire to corn husks after shelling.

The blaze got out of control and was very close to a chicken house. Arthur Strohm, who was working on the farm with a tractor, helped confine it, and he and Burch had it pretty well calmed when the firemen arrived and wet down the surrounding buildings, so that no great loss was sustained.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burch were called to Decatur over the weekend by the death of his uncle, Clarence Reed, who has visited in the Burch home here. Mr. Reed had retired to South Carolina a few years ago, but was brought to his home town of Decatur for burial. Mr. Burch drove to South Carolina on Thursday to bring his mother who also lives there, to Decatur for her brother's funeral.

The Ames Conrad family of Chicago are spending several days in the Burch home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burnworth went to Sidell last Saturday to help celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Burnworth's mother, Mrs. Julian Williams. They returned Sunday afternoon.

The Frank Townsend family have returned from a vacation trip to Michigan. We hope the fish bit well!

The Homer Fire Flies 4-H club met Thursday evening in the church dining room. Mr. Zander had charge of the meeting.

The Bradford League group held a play session on the park grounds Thursday afternoon. They will not meet again until Rev. Elvig returns from Camp, where he will serve as Camp Dean. Young people from Homer who are attending the Church Camp at Syracuse, Ind., are John, Mary and Paul Filipowicz, George and Billy Burcham, Susan and Donna Reed, Jerry and Dianne Moravec, Susan and Sandra Cagwin, and Martha Schaecke. They will return July 24. Furnishing transportation, besides Rev. Elvig, were Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Reed and Mr. and Mrs. James Bethel.

Larry White, who has had a recurrence of back trouble as an aftermath of the serious accident he suffered some time ago, is under the doctor's care. He is improving but can do no heavy work yet.

Mrs. C. G. Rowley returned to her home on Bruce Rd. Monday after a few days in Silver Cross for medical treatment.

Funeral services were held Thursday, July 14, at St. Alphonsus Church, Lemont, for Mrs. Rose Weller of Lemont, mother of Mrs. Barney Weller of Homer. Mrs. Weller died suddenly at the Weller home where she was a guest. Burial was in St. Michael's Cemetery, Homer twp.

Linda Shepherd, Bruce Rd., spent last week in the home of her uncle and aunt, the Leon Shepherds of Joliet. She was the special guest of her cousin, Kathie. During the week just past, Caroline, who is Linda's sister, visited in the home of another aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Lemont.

Dan and Michael LeGrand were last Sunday dinner guests in the Ray Carlson home.

On Sunday, July 24, a team of young people from Wheaton College will have charge of the morning service at Homer Church in the absence of Mr. Elvig. Among them will be a speaker, a singer and two musicians. This should be well worth attending.

Last Sunday, Rev. Elvig's sermon was based on the theme, "All things work together for good." The special music was a solo by Mrs. John Hollister.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Kasper and daughter, Beverley of Redlands, Calif., are spending a two weeks' vacation in the C.G. Rowley

New NI-Gas Bond Issue

Northern Illinois Gas Company Wednesday (July 13) awarded a $30 million 25-year 4 5/8 per cent first mortgage bond issue to the First Boston Corporation at a price to the company of 99.587.

Luster L. Starrett, the utility's treasurer, said this represents a money cost to the company of 4.65 per cent, exclusive of expenses. The bonds will be publicly offered at 100.369 to yield 4.60 per cent.

The new issue will have a maturity date of July 1, 1985. None of the bonds may be redeemed prior to July 1, 1965 through refunding by any debt issue having a lower

Other bids were received from Blyth & Co., Inc. and Equitable Securities Corporation; Glore, Forgan & Co.; and Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.

Net proceeds of the sale will be used, Starrett said, to retire possible short-term bank loans of up to $5 million, and to increase working capital for estimated construction expenditures of $200 million for the five-year period, 1960-64.

No Boats, Lake Or Sandbags But Leak Was Steady

ED. Note: We sent a young cub reporter to cover a story about a hole in a pipe on third street, he treated it lightly and the people concerned were disturbed. Therefore, let it be known:

There were no boats, no sandbags, no lakes, no gushers. The leak in the pipe was not in the yard of Harry Lawrence, 220 N. Division street, but in leading pipe into his property.

Jack Horras did not have a lake in his yard, and non of the neighbors were alarmed. The leak was confined to a small area at the north east corner of Division and Third.

The hole in the pipe was only one-eighth inch in diameter and discharged only 28,000 gallons of the Village's water storage in a week, according to Village figures, 4,000 gallons a day.

Sportsmens Picnic Set For Sunday

The New Lenox Sportsmen's club picnic will be held this Sunday, July 24 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., at the Recreation area for all members, friends and families.

There will be swimming, games for adults and children and a unique fishing derby. For each Blue Gill the children catch and turn in to the committee, they will receive a penny, regardless of size. This derby is to serve several purposes; the children will enjoy fishing and participate in the cash award and will help control the Blue Gill population. Those entering in the derby must supply their own fishing poles and worms. Free rides for the children on a train and ferris wheel will be available. All campsites have been leased for this season. The leased sites are even numbers and the open sites are uneven numbers.

The beach house is open from noon to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday, Sunday and Holidays. There will be free junior and senior Life Saving classes for those over 12 and 16 years of age. Both courses are 17 hours and are approved by the American Red Cross. For private or group swimming lessons in the mornings for four year olds or older information may be obtained from the Life Guard.

The following boys and girls were first period campers from this area: David Wood, Marilynne Skinner, Ruth Cernick, Daniel Burn, William Steven, Thomas Kunz and Keith Albom all of Palos Heights. John Schneider and Martin Lovgren of Palos Park, Danny Goetz and Victor Johnson of Worth and Scott Bischoff, Orland Park. The dates for the 2nd and 3rd period Palos-Orland "Y" Day Camp are July 25 thru August 5 and August 8 thru August 19. For particulars regarding enrollment or for further information, please call the "Y" office at Gibson 8-3888.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

American Legion baseball sort of caught on in the area this year, with Tinley Park and Orland Park fielding teams that were considered respectable to say the least.

The Orland Park entry is right in the thick of the struggle for the pennant of District 8. At the date of this writing the only team to beat the Orland outfit was Tinley Park.

Orland has posted six victories against its one loss, Calumet City has been in the battle with Orland for the League lead.

Tinley had a good beginning season with a .500 log. Next year things should look somewhat better.

Though the Sandburg Eagles did not look too impressive, after winning the previous year's baseball title, they should be coming back extra strong next spring when baseball time rolls around. A couple from the Lincoln-Way high school team rounded out the Orland Park nine, but most of them were Sandburg fellows.

Bremen should get more help from American Legion seasonings for some of its regulars on the Tinley Park Legion nine.

Frankfort nine in the twelve-inch softball is the only one of its calibre and kind in the immediate area.

They are having another successful year in doing battle what is known as "kitten-ball" in these parts. One of the world's best areas for this kind of sports activity is Aurora.

Frankfort has fielded a men's team for some years now.

Towns such as Monee, Peotone and Matteson have been a part of this League. Perhaps, the Frankfort team has been the most successful in the won-loss column.

Recently, they played a team from Tinley Park and clobbered them in a extremely one-sided affair. Tinley either didn't get a hit or managed to collect a couple scratch safeties.

You can drive along Route 45 at night and see quite a line of cars and plenty of Frankfort fans watching their favorites at a game that may soon see another burst of popularity.

Golf Classes For Women Now In Session At Palos

The Palos Country Club, 131st and Southwest Highway, 131st and Southwest Highway, is the scene of the weekly, Monday morning, Womens' Golf classes of the Palos-Orland YMCA.

Owen Johnson, popular golf professional of Evergreen Park is the "Y" instructor for the weekly lessons and will take additional students thru July 25.

Information on registering may be obtained by calling the "Y" at GI 8-3888.

George Sellery, once the hottest name in Joliet racing, will be out to launch a comeback in the mid-geet auto program Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Sellery, of Westchester, broke a long dry spell last weekend with his first feature race victory since June 29, 1957 -- the year he won the United Auto Racing Association championship.

Since then the veteran speedster has made several good showings, but hasn't come particularly close to a title. Sellery not only won the main event last weekend, but captured his heat race as well.

A clear cut contender for the track title hasn't developed yet this season, and at least 12 to 15 top drivers still have a clear shot at it.

The top two contenders are Kuss Sweedler of Joliet and Tony Lenti, Markham, each with two feature victories. Among the others still very much in the running are Johnny Riva of Morton Grove, Bill Beam of Rockdale, Willie Wildhaber of Dwight, Warren Scheide of Denver, Colo., Byron Fisher of Lemont, Ray Elliott of Lockport and Vic Watson, Mendota.

Saturday's program will include four heat races, a handicap, 15 lap semifinals and 25 lap feature. Time trials will start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Twenty six entries from various places in the state of Illinois participated in the North Illinois Cutting Horse show staged at the residence of Glenn Vally, Ash and Cooper street, New Lenox, Friday evening, July 15.

This was the first time Mr. Vally a member of the association, was host to the group and was pleased with the large attendance which he estimated to be approximately 300.

The four classes judged and first place winners of each are as follows: Open cutting, Manny Kulwin, Chicago; Novice, Eileen Baird, Bloomington; Green horse, L. H. Wood, Grayslake and Junior Kenny Baird, Bloomington.

As these classes were open to the public as well as to members Mr. Vally received a call, prior to show time from a traveler driving thru New Lenox who noticed the advertisement about the horse show and inquired if he could still enter his horse. He came from the farthest distance as an entry, Texas.

The Bronco Buster, 4-H club had charge of the lunch stand and profits will accrue to the Fred A. Francis 4-H fairgrounds fund.
